BUTLER'S ANALOGY.

Of the straight-laced Bay State you'd be the hero?
"I neared it in last year's convention."

But, they say you've more hatred than love in 'ero?
"My speeches command her attention."

With the title of "Beast" they still jeer you—
"By traitors and cockneys invented."

And pretend, for their "spoons," that they fear you.
"A Butler might know they were rented!"

But for back-pay in Congress you voted;—
"Where front-pay before was the scandal."

And as now its defender are quoted?
"A true man will show what he'll handle."

They impute to you demagogue dealings;—
"As Demagogues call what defeat them."

And they think against Grant are your feelings.
"The thought that's a wish, then, may cheat them."

There are chiefs in your camp view you coldly;
"Each spire'd be its town's only steeple;"

They would have you seek office less boldly.
"And bow unto them as the People."

But the press of your party berates you;—
"And keeps me in popular fashion;"—

And the Springfield Republican hates you.
"In proof of its Bowles of compassion!"

In the Senate you're not in good savor;—
"And I can reciprocate freely;"

In the Tribune you've no chance of favor;
"It favored the late Mr. Greeley!"

And the Lib'rals all help will refuse you.
"Their lib'ral dislike is expected."

But the Son of New York will abuse you,
"Why, then I'm as good as elected."

ORPHEUS C. KERR.

MATRIMONY AMONG THE SHAKERS.

The Shakers, it appears, are getting leavened with some of the world-wide notions about love and matrimony, which they have so long tried to suppress and eradicate. One of them recently visited Oneada Community, and in the course of a conversation with one of the members, made some curious revelations. The Shaker community is declining in numbers, and the wisest among the Shakers see no way of repairing this evil except by having recourse to matrimony. This man had been reduced from the office of elder.

"May I ask what was the nature of your offence?" said his interlocutor.

Shaker (hesitating a little)—You will understand that the Shakers are very strict as regards the relation between the sexes. Well, some of the members of our society look upon our rules respecting social matters as quite too rigid, believing that the more laws the greater the temptation to violate them. And I, as an elder, had considerable sympathy with the weaker ones on this point, and so ventured one day to broach the subject, for the purpose of discussion, to one of the eldresses associated with me. In all candor I said: "Sister Martha, what harm would there be if we permitted a little more social freedom between the brethren and sisters, such, for instance, as a kiss, an embrace, an expression of mutual affection, such as are allowable between brothers and sisters in a well regulated family?" But sister Martha was so terribly shocked at the bare suggestion of the slightest departure from the Shaker code of morals that she forthwith reported me to the ministry.

C.—And what followed?

Shaker—The ministry were very indignant and deposed me at once, allowing me no opportunity of explaining my motives of making a defence.

C.—And did you submit to the humiliation of being turned out of office without a protest?

Shaker—Yea, I thought that the better way.

C.—Does not your church allow any personal contact whatever between the sexes?

Shaker—Nay.

C. Did I understand you to say that it was the life-long work of the Shakers to conquer flesh?

Shaker—Yea, that is the fight we are engaged in.

C.—But your method of doing it don't seem to work well, according to your own confession. We have found that "grace and hash," the confession of Christ and criticism, can accomplish what the law cannot. Christ says, "Whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery already with her in his heart." How do you get by that? Is there not a good deal of adultery of this kind among the Shakers?

Shaker—Yea, you have hit us there. The elders not unfrequently are obliged to rebuke persons sharply while at their meals for allowing their eyes to wander flesh ward.

C.—Now according to apostolic reasoning, "He who offends in one point is guilty of all," so that as long as you fail in conquering the eye, which can do a great amount of mischief in the service of the flesh, I cannot see how your victories over the flesh are to be gained.

Shaker.—Some of our people are beginning to see that we make but little progress toward victory over our carnal nature.

C.—Of how many members does your society consist? and are they increasing or decreasing?

Shaker.—We have about two hundred in our four families. During the late war we took in about one hundred and twenty, consisting chiefly of women and children, who joined for the sake of a home.

C.—Are they still with you?

Shaker. Not one in twenty remained with us five years.

C.—Does not the future of Shakerism look rather discouraging to you?

Shaker. Yea, and it causes us some anxiety of mind.

White Sulphur Springs.

[Correspondence of the Daily Graphic.]

GREENBRIER, WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va., July 8.—Sitting on my porch this morning, looking across the lawns and toward the mountain peaks, listening to the lay of the song-birds, drinking in the fresh air of Greenbrier and sheltered by the generous canopy of oak leaves, I am tempted to believe the Happy Valley, if it ever had a history in keeping with the fairy legend, must surely have been here. This is a favored spot. Little wonder that our southern princes of other days found this the happiest of summer homes. Imagine a grove of noble oaks, the grounds beautifully laid out, the lawns closely trimmed, gravel walks free from débris of any kind, the whole estate surrounded and hedged in by heaven-kissing hills. In the centre of the grounds an immense hotel, and on an elevated plateau, some three or four hundred feet from the main building, an unbroken row of cottages extending around three sides of the square. Here live and move and have their being the Messrs. Peytons' summer family, numbering, at this time, three hundred guests, and as many servants; in three weeks hence there will be two thousand guests and six hundred servants. Comfort first, fashion afterwards, seems to be the motto of the present habitues of White Sulphur. Fashionable dissipations, nightly revels, or constantly changing dress seems to be unknown, the pleasures are quiet rather than rapid, and the health of the people excellent. The advantages of sulphur bathing are too well known to require endorsement by the Daily Graphic. From six to ten in the morning, one or two invalids, who are unable to walk, are wheeled down to the bath house to receive their daily application of sulphur bathing, varying in degree according to the condition of the patient's system. Twenty or thirty young ladies, attired in morning gowns, their faces shaded by generous sun-bonnets, steal through the grove to the bath-house during the morning, not really because they are sick; "but it is best to be careful, you know," as a demure little beauty of South Carolina remarked to me the other day. A few gentlemen bathe, but the majority drink the water from the spring hard by—that is, with a "stick" in it. "Sticks" are furnished at the hotel. After the bath I will assume the fair Alice or the modest Constance to be engaged in discussing the latest novel, or she may be sleeping, or possibly a little of each. At best, I can but theorize on this point, as their cottages are as unassailable at this time as the most guarded nunnery. But notice the charming freshness of their blooming cheeks, when they emerge at one o'clock at the first echoing notes of the orchestra stationed under the spreading branches of the oaks on the lawn! Here we linger for an hour drinking in the silvery sweetness of the orchestral performance. Food is bolted, and Morpheus is courted until six in the evening. Then more music, followed by tea. We then await fresh arrivals by the trains, and afterwards dancing till twelve. So go the days, pleasantly, dreamily, happily. Naught to mar the even tenor of the day; the gentle dews of heaven descend by night; we seek our couches, and, undisturbed by torturing dreams, yield ourselves to the embrace of sweet repose. Is it not an altogether charming existence? No excitements, no cares, no unfulfilled desires?

Later in the season the President is expected, having written that he will come, if convenient. Possibly there will be a ball in his honor. With this exception the programme of exciting joys is a blank! Where excitement is not desired, its absence is not missed. An occasional drive to the famed sweet Chalybeate Springs, sixteen miles east; a fishing excursion; a ramble in the woods; these are our joys, and, possessing these, we are content.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Kingsley's Iron Tonic.
Have you Nervous troubles, USE IT.
Have you Poor Blood, USE IT.
Have you Dyspepsia, USE IT.
Are you Languid, USE IT.
Are you weak and Feeble, USE IT.
Is your Brain Affected, USE IT.
Have you Female Troubles, USE IT.
Are your Children Sickly, USE IT.
Do you want Rosy Cheeks, USE IT.
Every one with pale lips and with no energy or strength to do anything, with sleepless nights from over working the brain, should use this remedy. It is a blood maker and will give you a rich flow of it through the system. Servant girls will find it valuable to gain strength. A physician who has used it for the last two years says: "It is the best Tonic in the market." Another says: "Its effect upon sick and weakly females is marvelous." Another says: "Tell Mr. Kingsley I am very much pleased with his Iron Tonic." Another says: "I have used it during the past two years, and consider it the best Tonic given in cases of general debility."

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.
SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,
Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.
Sometimes medicines that will stop a cough will often occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood; hemorrhage follows, and in fact, clogging the action of the very organs that caused the cough.
Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two thirds of the cases of consumption. Many are now complaining with a dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes costive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder blade, feeling sometimes very restless, and other times drowsy; the food that is taken lies heavily on the stomach, accompanied by acidity and belching of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and the cough in these cases be suddenly stopped, the lungs, liver and stomach clog, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his situation the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.
Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests easily, nourishes the system and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patient is of a billious habit, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.
These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, Pa., and for sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Boston, and John F. Henry, 8 College Place, New York, Wholesale Agents.
For Sale by Druggists generally.

SIR:—The chief opposition to the introduction of water comes, as I learn, from old citizens of the town resident in the lower portion of it. I have yet to hear of a single resident "on the hill" who objects.

Do the old citizens aforesaid reflect that while they will be the chief gainers from the proposed supply of water the burden of it, if any, will fall mainly upon the large owners of real estate on the Avenue, Kay Street, Upper Touro Street and the streets adjacent thereto, while from being on elevated ground and so not subjected to the sewerage of their neighbors—possessed of large cisterns and plenty of means to build more if necessary, they do not stand in so much need of it as those who live throughout the year on Spring and Thames streets, and it is from the former class that we should not be surprised at receiving opposition, as all their interests save one are against the proposed scheme—that one—the health of our common home, should unite all in favor of it.

SEASONINGS.

Of all the watering place hotels in the world, Congress Hall, Saratoga, stands at the head. There is not a more solid, substantial building standing, though it is occupied but three months in the year; and its architectural proportions are perfect. To walk its broad piazzas at evening under hundreds of brilliant lights, to the time of the finest orchestral music in the country is like a trip into fairy land, and one has to pinch himself occasionally to make himself sure he is yet in the flesh. The building is as near fire proof as a hotel can be, which is a consolation and comfort to timid souls; there is a superb ball room reached by a graceful little bridge, thrown across the street from the second story; the corps of half a hundred waiters is controlled and drilled like an army; there is food enough and of sufficiently good quality to satisfy even such an appetite as the Hathorn water gives one; the guests are of the creme de la creme, and over all, presides that prince of hotel proprietors, Mr. Hathorn.

Saratoga is experiencing a good season this year and nearly all the old habitues are at the Congress, where the same parties occupy the same rooms summer after summer.

At this the mother, with a smart sprinkling of asperity in her tone, and with a manner that showed her to be oblivious to the fact that any one else was within hearing, said: "Look there! I've paid for a clam dinner for you, and now I ain't going to have you filling up with water." The little fellow paid strict

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—We want water. Give us water!

—The mails for this city are very heavy.

—The trade in sal soda and borax is brisk at present.

—Brewer street is having a coating of crushed stone.

—The New York boat hardly had a piece of freight, this morning.

—Ward McAllister is spending the summer at Sharon.

—Admiral Porter and family arrived at the Aquidneck House Saturday evening.

—Rev. Mr. Gage preached at the Unitarian church yesterday in the absence of the pastor.

—The partnerships of W. E. & G. W. Crandall & Wm. Oman & Co., are dissolved.

Very interesting Sunday School concerts occurred, last evening, at the First and Central Baptist churches.

—The services in Touro Park, last evening were conducted by Rev. Mr. Hammond, of Middletown.

—An effort is making to raise sufficient funds to clear the Shiloh Baptist Society of debt. A worthy object.

—Miss Finkenstaedt returned last week from a two weeks' stay at Sharon Springs and Saratoga.

—Mrs. Finkenstaedt is daily opening novelties in fancy work and choice millinery at her store in Downing's block.

—Col. Plunkett of the Governor's staff of Connecticut is among the permanent guests at the Ocean House.

—Dr. Thayer's pulpit was occupied yesterday by Rev. Dr. Paxton of New York in the morning and the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke in the afternoon.

—Messrs. Coyle & Morgan announce that they are in readiness to take orders for all varieties of tin and sheet iron work, at their place in the Lead Works.

—The hop at the Ocean House Saturday evening was quite a brilliant affair. Many of the cottagers and guests from the other hotels were present.

—On Wednesday, the 15th inst., there will be a meeting at the Ocean House of all the leading wholesale music dealers in the country. Doubtless it will be a very sonorous affair.

—The Hon. Sidney Dean, editor Providence Press, is registered at Congress Hall Saratoga: and we can think of no better place where a tired scribe may seek rest from his labors.

—The advertisement of F. Frasch appears in another column. He is prepared to furnish families with ice cream and cakes during the season and his prices will favorably compare with others. He invites all to call and see for themselves.

—A barge laden with coal, in tow of the steam tug Narragansett, filled and sank, Sunday afternoon, between the Dumplings and Beaver Tail. She went entirely to pieces after sinking. The tug, with a remaining barge, went up the river.

—The persons who found the sums of money advertised in Saturday's issue also found owners in each case. One of them was not even favored with a "Thank you, sir," while the other was thanked "almost to death." Poor encouragement for honesty, that!

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Union Congregational Church propose holding another bazar at the Academy of Music on the afternoon and evening of July 30th and 31st. The proceeds will be devoted to liquidating the church debt.

Measures are now being taken to call a meeting of Newport veterans to make arrangements for the veteran reunion at Rocky Point on Friday next. This affair should not be confused with the reunion of the veteran organizations of New England, to be held at the same place on the thirtieth.

—It is important for passengers for Newport on the steamers Bristol and Providence to know that no dependance can be placed upon being wakened on arrival at this city. We know of one case at least, where a gentleman was carried to Fall River in consequence of the neglect of the steamer's officers.

—A melancholy accident occurred, last night, at the Narragansett Steamboat Company's dock. A large number of persons had collected on the wharf to look at the Bristol and she most impolitely blew off steam to such an improper extent as to completely drench many of the assembled ladies and gentlemen, all of whom are now ready and even anxious to swear that the Bristol is a steamer of great capacity.

Book Notice.

THE PHYSICAL LIFE OF WOMAN.—Is the title of a book of about 400 pages written by George H. Napheys, M.D. and for which this city will be canvassed by Mr Joseph S. Smith. The title of the book clearly indicates the important subject of which it treats. That it treats it well, is indicated by the approval of many eminent physicians and journals, and also by the fact that ten thousand copies were sold within three months after its publication. The book conveys a great amount of information that no woman should be without, and in a manner to which the most fastidious can not object.

to the maiden, the wife, the mother, the child, health in marriage, the single life, and the change of life. It is worthy of careful reading by all ladies, old and young, and in all situations. Parties wishing the book will address Joseph S. Smith P. O. Newport.

A WELL MANAGED PLACE.—The following extract from a Charleston, S. C., paper is complimentary to Mr. Clarke and will be interesting to his many friends in this city:

The plantation belonging to the late Daniel Lesesne, Esq., on the waters of Hobcaw Creek, about eight miles from the village of Mount Pleasant, was leased by Mr. D. O. Clarke, where he has resided for the past two years, and tested its healthiness; the second summer being always, as you are aware, considered as the most hazardous. The gin house, of two stories, thirty by sixty feet, is located on the summit of a plateau, sloping gently to the waters of the creek, which affords the means of transportation for the cotton from the building. The engine, of ten-horse power, is located in a wing to the rear. This runs three McCarthy gins and a whipper, together with a grist mill and a circular saw, which are attached when necessary. These gins will run out three bales a day. The moting rooms contain three tables constructed for that purpose, of cylindrical rods at which as many women and boys can be accommodated in the assigned spaces, are always busily disengaging the motes and dust from the lint.

Mr. Clarke is a man of work and energy, and keeps everything on the move about him. He has one hundred acres in cotton, and there are sixty-five acres of the same crop of the freedmen, of whom there are twenty families living on the place, furnishing the greater portion of the labor required for the plantation work. The neat and commodious residence, built and formerly occupied by the late proprietor, was consumed by fire about 1865, and its tall chimneys now mark the spot once the abode of happiness and a refined hospitality. Mr. Clarke has been a resident in the city and this vicinity for twenty years, and although a native of the wintry scenes of a higher latitude, his heart and hands are warm and active for the prosperity of the home of his adoption.

SOMEWHAT CONFUSED.—In these days of popular Darwinism it is worth while to be somewhat careful as to the particular animal from which you trace a friend's genealogy. If you tell a man he is descended from an oyster, or ascended, rather, he will scarcely get angry, because the extreme remoteness of that genealogic starting point obliterates anything uncomplimentary about the character of the ancestor, and we have all become so used to considering ourselves the distant offspring of an agile gibbon or a chattering baboon that we don't mind being told so personally. But if you substitute for the quadrumana a less imitative but more civilized and affectionate quadruped, and if you tell a man that instead of being a remote descendant of that animal he is separated from it by only one generation, it behooves you to see to it that you are a good deal bigger than he is or else that you have a clear title to a lot in Jackal Square.

But it does occur sometimes that one will, in a moment of discouragement or under the influence of an evil spirit, which his name is not Legion but corn juice, apply this hereditary insult to another party when he really supposes it was applied to him. On Saturday a long, green youth called on us and after extorting from us a most diabolical affidavit by the great horned spook, and G. Whittaker and the Holy Moses that we would "ever conceal and never reveal" his name, proceeded to tell us of a most fiendish attempt to rob him the previous night on Bellevue avenue, somewhere north of the Atlantic House. If we ever published his name he "vowtoned" to spat on the graves of our ancestors for fourteen generations back, and that he would immediately withdraw advertising from us to the extent of a dollar and a quarter. His story was that he was walking home from the Ocean House when three colored Africans, not that they had three colors, but that there were three of them, came up behind him and one of them tried to kick him down. He didn't discover that they carried deadly weapons, and they didn't ask for his money or his life, and every one knows that the young man doesn't carry anything about him worth stealing, except his imagination, but he will always remain convinced that they attempted to rob him. The heroic youth didn't run; he turned and fought these three men in buckram, and by morning he would probably have made three jobs for the undertaker had not a couple of men came up opportunely and driven off the blood-thirsty Ethiopians.

In evidence of the yarn, he hauled up one pantaloon and showed us a shin that had been bereft of skin or dirt, (at the distance at which we found it convenient to stand we could not be positive which,) to the extent of one square quarter of an inch. Instead of publishing this awful affair on Saturday, we waited for further developments, and in the evening instinct guided us to one of these two men who rescued the three brunette Philistines from being slain with the jaw bone of an ass by our long legged informer.

According to this gentleman, as he and a companion were walking up the avenue from the Ocean House, they heard an altercation going on between the pale face and the three colored gentlemen. At last he remarked to them that they were the sons of that domestic animal before alluded to, whom we all admire as a playmate, but upon whom we cannot look as a parent with any sort of satisfaction. Then the three shadies prepared to walk into that guileless youth, and the arrival of a party of the third part deprived the undertaker of an opportunity to build a coffin eight feet long and eleven inches wide.

"Oh! no we'll never mention it,
That once familiar name."

Suggestions for Summer.

It is of great importance that the system should be in a vigorous condition when the hot weather commences. The effects of a high temperature upon an enfeebled frame are always more or less disastrous. The loss of substance and the declension of nervous power, occasioned by excessive heat, can only be counteracted by the active, healthful, and regular exercise of all the bodily functions by which the waste of nature is replenished and the vital energies renewed. The great utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of toning, invigorating and regulating the organs of the body, is universally acknowledged. As a tonic it stimulates the flagging appetite and digestion; as a corrective it neutralizes acidity of the stomach and relieves flatulency; as an alterative and mild aperient it regulates the liver and the bowels; as an anodyne it promotes tranquil sleep; as a wholesome stimulant it imparts firmness and elasticity to the relaxed and trembling nerves, and as a blood depurent it purifies the vital stream. The value of such a specific to the weak and debilitated is beyond all estimate. To invalids wilted down by the sultry heat of midsummer, it is as refreshing and vitalizing as the cool night dew to the sun scorched flowers. Composed of vegetable elements only, with a basis of pure diffusive stimulant, it is safe and palatable as well as medicinal. In fever and ague districts, and wherever the natural conditions are conducive to epidemic disease, it is considered the best safeguard against malarious infection, and the specified remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers.

Cholera and its kindred complaints are prevented by Wilbor's Extract Jamaica Ginger.

Only Such Perfumes as are prepared by Messrs. Caswell & Co., will call attention to [illegible] branch of [illegible] study are requisite to bring about a first-class article, all of which are more than evident in the above named and delicious preparations.

The Most Unhappy Person in the world is the Dyspeptic. Everything looks dark and gloomy; he feels "out of sorts" with himself and everybody else. Life is a burden to him. This can all be changed by taken Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of Iron). Cases of 25 years' standing have been cured by it.

For Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF CALISAYA made by CASWELL, HAZARD & CO., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. jy9-4w

PIMPLES AND HUMORS ON THE FACE.—In this condition of the skin, the VEGETINE is the great remedy, as it acts directly upon the cause. It cleanses and purifies the blood, thereby causing humors of all kinds to disappear.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE PAIN-KILLER manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON has won for itself a reputation unsurpassed in medical preparations. The universality of the demand for the Pain Killer is a novel, interesting, and surprising feature in the history of this medicine. The Pain-Killer is now regularly sold in large and steadily increasing quantities, not only to general agents in every Province in British America, but to Buenos Ayres, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Chili, and other South American States, to the Sandwich Islands, to Cuba and other West India Islands; to England and Continental Europe; to Mozambique, Madagascar, Zanzibar, and other African lands; to Australia, and Calcutta, Rangoon and other places in India. It has also been sent to China, and we doubt if there is any foreign port or any inland city in Africa or Asia, which is frequented by American and European missionaries travelers or traders, into which the Pain-Killer has not been introduced.

The extent of its usefulness is another great feature of this remarkable medicine. It is not only the best thing ever known, as everybody will confess, for bruises, cuts, burns, &c., but for dysentery or cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency and rapidity of action. In the great cities of British India and the West India Islands and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as dyspepsia, liver complaint, and other kindred disorders. For coughs and colds, canker, asthma and rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing trials and testimony, to be an invaluable medicine. The proprietors are in possession of letters from persons of the highest character and responsibility, testifying in unequivocal terms to the cures effected and the satisfactory results produced in an endless variety of cases by the use of this great medicine. That the Pain-Killer is deserving of its proprietors claim for it is amply proved by the unparalleled popularity it has attained. It is a sure and effective remedy. It is sold in almost every country in the world, and is becoming more and more popular every year. GENERAL NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

New York.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

This is the day fixed upon by the Excise Commissioners to begin the enforcement of the old Sunday liquor law of 1857. No special orders have been given the police to watch the saloons, and everything went on much as usual. The front doors of most of the saloons were closed, but the usual traffic was going on inside.

The Orange procession yesterday was one of the quietest ever seen in this city. It started from Lafayette place at 10:40 A. M., only about 500 Orangemen being in line, with fourteen banners, and an escort of twice as many police enclosing them on either side. They had two bands which played "Boyne Water" along Broadway, up and on the way back from Thirty-fourth street, "Orange and Green will carry the day," along Fifth avenue. There was no enthusiasm during the passage of the procession, and no hostile demonstration. One man was arrested for disorderly conduct. About 2000 persons accompanied the procession, of whom some 200 were Irish Protestant working men in their Sunday clothes, and about thirty or forty women, evidently relatives of the processionists, and of whom about a dozen wore orange rosettes or ribbons.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—The signal service is to be extended by this government to the West Indies and the Windward Islands, and eventually along the eastern and western coasts of South America. Stations have already been fitted up and manned at the following places: Havana, Santiago de Cuba, Kingston, Porto Rico, St. Thomas, Antigua, Guadaloupe and St. Vincent on the Windward Islands, from which are sent postal reports of their observations. From St. Vincent to Barbadoes will be the next extension.

THE CUBANS.

Several gentlemen passed through here last night, en route to the Southern States, for the purpose of organizing meetings in the different Southern States, for the purpose of testing the feelings of the people on the subject of the Cuban insurrection and if possible, to induce them to pass resolutions calling upon their representatives in Congress at its next session to pass resolution favoring the Cuban cause. It is also stated that similar meetings are to be organized throughout the North and West.

Miscellaneous.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—Gen. Kauffman has restored the Khan of Khiva to his original position as ruler of the Khanate. It is stated that the Russian army will evacuate Khiva in August.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 13.—A fire in Woonsocket, R. I., yesterday damaged sheds and a tenement block of the Harris Woollen Company. Loss on the building $1500. The loss by water and the removal of furniture was considerable.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 13.—Michael Higgins, a farm laborer of Cheshire, stabbed O'Neil on Saturday night in the abdomen, from the effects of which O'Neil died today. A search for Higgins resulted in the discovery of his dead body in a room in the farm house. It is supposed he died from heart disease, superinduced by excitement. Higgins insulted O'Neil's wife, and from this the trouble arose.

WHEELING, W. VA., July 12.—Great excitement prevails here over a terrible tragedy enacted last night at Harmony, Pa. A young man named John Frasier some time since eloped with Kate Foolstick, a girl 17 years of age, from this city where they resided. They went to Pittsburg and thence to Harmony, where they stopped at a hotel. While the girl was lying in bed Frasier shot her in the head with a revolver and then shot himself. He lived but a few hours. The girl is still living but cannot recover. No definite cause is assigned for the act, but it is supposed Frasier was jealous.

THE WASHINGTON WRECK.

Arrival of Passengers in Boston—Another Story by a Survivor.

BOSTON, July 13.—Last evening at eleven o'clock, a portion of the steerage passengers of the wrecked steamer City of Washington, arrived at the Eastern depot in this city. The depot was immediately prepared for the accommodation of the castaways, and good meals furnished them. A large number still await transportation from the scene of the disaster, but their wants are now amply attended to. A reporter of the Globe visited the Eastern railroad station, and hotels in the vicinity, where the rescued passengers were awaiting transit to New York by the evening train, and found them comfortably provided for and glad enough to be safe on shore, after the hardships of shipwreck.

The following statement was made by John Baldwin, an intelligent and well educated young Irishman from Queen's county, concerning the voyage, wreck and attendant circumstances:

"We had nearly five hundred passengers on board when we left Queenstown. After we had been out three or four days, a thick fog set in, which lasted until the day of the disaster. It was so thick at times that we could not see a few feet ahead of us; but the sun was often visible as a bright hazy spot in the heavens.

One of the passengers who had followed the ocean for many years, told the captain that he would run into danger if he did not fall to the southward, but the advice received no attention. At 1:30 P. M., on Saturday, 5th of July, as most of the passengers were on deck, having just finished dinner, the vessel brought up with two heavy crashes. The greatest excitement then broke out. The sailors went to work on the life boats. Men got excited and women were moaning and crying. Cannon were fired for assistance, but we did not expect help, as no one could tell where we were.

Very soon we were hailed by a boat and two men came on deck, calming our fears by telling the distance from shore, and how easy was the landing. Boats were lowered and the women were sent on shore. The men followed till every soul was on land. The doctor of the ship did a great deal to help us. He put up some tents on shore and got us something to eat. He was the only man who paid any attention to us when we got on land. We had to stay on a rocky shore from Saturday till Thursday, suffering from want of food and shelter. We got one or two biscuits a day and a piece of bad fat meat which no one could eat. The women soon got worn out by hunger and exposure, and the men went round in the country after tea and milk for them.

On Thursday morning the vessel split in two and every thing was swept away. Our baggage had been landed before the ship went to pieces. The cook was baking in the cook room when the ship broke up. Three days' baking was swept away, and the cook barely escaped with his life. The people from the country around did noble work. They furnished sick women with tea, and gave up beds to them. There was lots of food on board, but somehow we did not get anything but putrid pieces of meat and now and then a biscuit.

Wednesday evening, a tug came up to take us around to the harbor where a steamboat was. The waves were so bad that we could not embark; so Thursday morning a crowd had to take what baggage we could carry and travel four miles to the harbor through woods and bogs. The steamer Falmouth was there at Port Lebear, and a part of us were taken on. We got treated splendidly on the Falmouth. We had the kindest treatment and all we could eat. When we got to Portland, they wanted us to go to Boston by water. We all cried out against it, and so came down in the cars. We had had enough of water, and knew it wouldn't take so long by land. The cabin passengers were all sent right off by rail and we considered ourselves entitled to the same indulgence. This was the principal reason why we wouldn't go by water. We have been well taken care of in Boston and are thankful that our lives were spared from the wreck, and that we are in such good hands now. I have no complaint to make against the officers of the City of Washington, but I think they might have fed us better when we were on the rocks."

Of the most approved patterns, including

Magee's Celebrated Ranges,

And also his new Plate Iron Hot Air Furnace, which is conceded by all impartial judges, to be superior to any yet invented, (when there is a better, I shall endeavor to secure it). It is free from the most serious objections which attach to other furnaces, it being utterly impossible for any gases to pass through the registers. To those contemplating having a new furnace, this is a most important consideration, as there are a great many troubled with gas in this city, from interior and poorly set furnaces. I have also a full line of Cutlery of English & American Manufacture.

Wooden and Tin Ware,
Japan Ware,
Baskets, Brooms,
Mats, Wringers,
Sad Irons,

And all articles in Laundry or House furnishing line.

I shall be pleased to see any or all of my old customers and any quantity of new ones at my new place of business and will assure them of a hearty desire to please them in every particular.

OCEAN'S STORY:

OR, TRIUMPHS OF THIRTY CENTURIES; By F. B. Goodrich (son of "Peter Parley") and E. Howland. A work of great historical research recounting in truly graphic style the wonderful growth of navigation, and history of discovery since the flood; is replete with incidents, thrilling adventures, battles, shipwrecks, mutinies, piracies, &c. Describes how from the first tiny bark, when ocean was the dark realm of terrors, sails now whiten every sea, lightning flashes tidings from shore to shore; and men bring up wonders from deep waters, with many other matters of lively interest, which go to make up one of the most VALUABLE, FASCINATING and REMARKABLE productions of the age. Over 200 spirited illustrations. Agents Wanted. For circulars and terms address, HUBBARD BROS., Publishers, Boston, Mass. je26-4w

Sheriff's Sale.

Newport, sc. STATE OF RHODE ISLAND, &c.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE, Newport, June 21, 1873.

BY VIRTUE and in pursuance of an Execution issued out of the Clerk's Office of the Supreme Court of the State within and for the County of Newport, on the first day of April, A. D. 1873, upon a judgment of said Court rendered on the 22d day of March, A. D. 1873, in favor of Jane S. Peirce of Little Compton, in the county of Newport and State aforesaid and against Elijah Pearce of the same Little Compton, for the sum of $1,392.50 debt and costs, whereof execution remains to be done, I did, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1873, at fifty-five minutes past nine o'clock, A. M., levy the said execution upon all the right, title and interest, which Elijah Pearce the aforesaid defendant, had, at the time of said levy, in and to the following described premises, to wit:—A certain parcel of land with all the buildings and improvements thereupon situated in said town of Little Compton in said county and bounded Northerly on lands of Charles P. Briggs, Jane E. Pearce, and Allen E. Devol; Westerly, partly on lands of James Pearce, and partly on lands of Samuel G. Pearce; Southerly on land of James Pearce and land of heirs of Stephen Simmons and partly on land of John Devol; Easterly on the long highway so called and lands of said John Devol or however otherwise the same may be bounded and subject to the dower to be recovered, if any, in a suit in equity against the said Elijah Pearce brought by John E. Pearce, Luther W. Pearce, Emma L. Pearce and Edward S. Pearce, which suit is now pending in the Supreme Court of said State within and for the County of Newport, and NOTICE is hereby given that I will sell the said attached estate at a public auction to be held on the said attached and described premises on Saturday the 12th day of July, A. D. 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the satisfaction of said execution, debt, interest, costs, my own fees and all contingent expenses if sufficient, unless the same shall be sooner satisfied.

GEO. MANCHESTER, Sheriff.

ADJOURNMENT.

Newport, sc. Newport, July 12, 1873.

The above sale is hereby adjourned to Monday the twenty-first day of July, A. D. 1873, at 12 o'clock, m., on the aforesaid premises, in consequence of an order from the Supreme Court restraining said sale, until further notice. GEO. MANCHESTER, jy12 0 Sheriff.

MONDAY, JULY 14, 1873.

An Enoch Arden Case Reversed.

A letter from Des Moines, Iowa, gives the following interesting bit of romance in real life: George E. Henderson left Ottumwa in the spring of 1867 to cross the plains to California and was captured by the Snake and Shoshone Indians. He was taken by them down into New Mexico, and has there been held by them since. He married an Indian woman while with the Indians and she assisted him in escaping, and persisted in coming home with him. He has a wife to whom he was married but a short time before he went away, a mother, brother and sister, residing near Ottumwa. His father was killed at Gettysburg. The family had given him up for dead, and the meeting on his arrival at home, a few days ago, was quite affecting. The mother recognized him as he stepped through the gate at the front dooryard, though he was dressed in the Indian costume and bronzed to nearly the color of a savage. He is now 42 years old, six feet one inch in height, and as straight as an arrow. The Indian wife seems devoted to him but freely and fully recognized the just rights of his first wife, who has so long mourned her husband as dead, and surrenders all her claims upon him in behalf of the white woman.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN — AN IRON TONIC — SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

LOWDEN'S Cough and Catarrh Remedy.

Having used Lowden's Cough and Catarrh Remedy for the Asthma, from which I have been a great sufferer, it has relieved me in a few moments so that I could breathe freely. To all who are afflicted with similar trouble I freely recommend it, as I consider it has saved my life. MRS. W. BOWEN, Fairhaven, Mass.

WHOOPING COUGH.—Quick and ready relief by using "Lowden's Cough and Catarrh Remedy." Let not your child suffer when ready relief is at hand. Try it. For sale by all dealers in Medicine.

W. SANDWICH, Mass., Nov. 12, 1872.

MR. LOWDEN,—Dear Sir: I have suffered for more than six years with a spasmodic cough, dry and hard, induced by a diseased state of the heart, and I am happy to say I have received more benefit from your "Cough and Catarrh Remedy," of which I have taken two bottles, than from any other medicine I have taken.

Yours, respectfully, SARAH S. SWIFT.

"Lowden's Cough and Catarrh Remedy" will cure a croup cough in five minutes. No family should be without it.

Diamond Spectacles.

TRADE MARK

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.

Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company, New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & CO., Jewelers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. I.,—from whom they can only be obtained. No peddlers employed. Do not buy any unless you see the trade mark. ap
